IMPORTANT BOROUGH OFFICES TO BE FILLED; LITTLE INTEREST

Some Hats in Ring for Local Places, But Enthusiasm is Wanting

THREE SEATS IN COUNCIL

Councilmen Rickey, Gaut and Duvall Retiring—Petitions Must be Filed By Last Day of Month—Some Interest in County Affairs.

Important borough offices are to be filled this fall, yet so far there has been little manifestation of interest. Several candidates have committed their hats to the ring, but there has not been any very great eagerness shown by presumed patriots, and there has been little talk among citizens concerning the coming primaries in September.

Following are the offices to be filled:
Council—Three to elect.
School board—Two to elect.
One constable.
One high constable.
One auditor.

Retiring councilmen are J. K. Rickey, W. R. Gaut and D. R. Duvall. School directors who this fall quit their places are Joseph Schoener and W. D. Pollock.

Petitions for office are to be in the hands of the county commissioners by the latter part of this month, yet so far there have been comparatively few circulated. There will have to be some eager signing within the next few days, or there will be a shortage of names on the ballots.

Local people are taking only ordinary interest even in the coming county elections. The nominations for judge, county commisioner, sheriff, and treasurer are claiming perhaps the greatest interest.

WANTS WIFE, SO ADVERTISES FOR HER, SPECIFYING KIND

East Downingtown Man Strong on Good Looks and Tidy Appearance —Age Must be Between 25 and 30.

"Wanted, a wife between the age of 25 and 30 years, fairly good looking, neat and tidy. Photo must accompany first letter."

ALLEGED RINGER CHANGES RESULTS

Purse in 2:25 Pace at Belle Vernon Now Goes to Punxsutawney Driver

"LADY ST. CLAIR" IS EDNA L

Sensation has resulted from the stated discovery of a "ringer" as the winner of the 2:25 pace for a stake of $1,000 at Belle Vernon recently, and the expose of the alleged "Ringer" has led to the money being given to J. M. Rising, of Punxsutawney, who finished second. The "ringer" was entered as "Lady St. Clair," and later discovered to be "Edna L." a well known racer with a mark of 2:09 1-4. Of the unmasking of the "ringer" the Horse Review of current issue says:

"Yesterday one of the slickest ringers ever run to earth in these parts was uncovered here and identified.The unmasking was done by Secretary W. H. Goeher of the N. T. A., and Clarence Cole, the well known track farrier, the former coming on from Hartford, Conn., for that purpose and the latter from Indianapolis, Ind. Cole at once identified "Lady St. Clair," as Edna L., 2:09 1-4, by Major Guetline. Delay, the man who was promoting her, put up a good argument to the judges. He made affidavit that she was as represented and informed Secretary Goecher that he would in two days produce in Hartford the breeder and owner of both sire and dame."

In the race which resulted in the uncovering of the supposed ringer, J M. Rising of Punxsutawney drove Cora Hal into first place in the first and second heats and in the succeeding heats finished third once and in second place twice, giving him second place. The disqualifying of Edna L ., which horse finished first in the last three heats, gives Cora Hal t he race.

William Comer, Well Known River Boss for Pittsburg Coal Company Mine Suffers Almost Instant Death ---Wife and Six Children Survive

Falling from the tipple of the Fayette City mine to an abutment a distance of about 25 feet, William Comer, aged 38 years of Allenport was almost instantly killed Monday.

Comer was the river boss at the Fayete City mine, a Pittsburg Coal company plant, and with other workmen was letting a wheel off the tipple. He was handling a wrench, when he lost his balance and fell.

Comer was still living when picked up in spite of a badly crushed chest and a hole in his throat, but survived only 45 minutes. His body was taken to his home near Allenport.

A. T. CRAVEN OUT FOR COUNTY TREASURER

The formal announcement of A. T. Craven of Carroll township as a candidate for the nomination for county treasurer on the Republican ticket appears in this issue of The Mail.

Mr. Craven has been a lifelong resident of the county, born and reared in Beallsville borough, receiving his education in the public schools of that borough and at the California State Normal school of which he is a gradate.

He has been a successful teacher in the schools of the county, an employe of the postoffice department of Charleroi as letter carrier, merchant at Scenery Hill and banker at Donora, which experiences have given him a wide acquaintance among the business and professional men and financiers of the county all of whom hold him in the highest esteem as a man of integrity and business ability. For the past year he has been located on his farm in Carroll township and has worked for the betterment of rural conditions, being actively engaged in grange work as master of Horse Shoe Grange.

Mr. Craven has always been a staunch Republican working untiringly for the interest of the party and has never heretofore asked for any public office. He is not the candidate of any man or set of men, organizations or corporations, but is making his campaign solely on his qualifications as a business man and voter.

If nominated and elected Mr. Craven promises the voters of the county a courteous and business-like administration, safeguarding the funds of the county at all time, placing such funds to interest bearing accounts and will not discriminate against any bank or banker in the distribution of said accounts.

Mr. Craven seeks the nomination for county treasurer on his record and respectfully solicits the support of the Republican voters at the primaries September 21. t1

CRIMINAL COURT WORK TAKEN UP MONDAY AT COUNTY SEAT

Murder and Assault Cases Listed for Attention During the Week

LOCAL MAN PLEADS GUILTY

John Polachek Admits he Carried a Concealed Weapon and Gets His Sentence—William McPeck Placed On Trial.

The August term of criminal court was convened Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Out of 80 jurors summoned only 40 answered roll call. One or two came in later.

The first case taken up was that of the commonwealth against Milicenia King of Washington, charged with assault and battery with intent to maim. The assault was made on her husband, William King, employed at the McAlister automobile garage. Mrs. King, after she had called her husband on the telephone telling him to come home and he had replied that he was busy, went to the garage, called her husband out and immediately discharged a revolver. The bullet took effect in King's wrist, inflicting a bad wound. Mrs. King was also charged with carrying concealed weapons. The jury found the defendant guilty. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

The court Monday afternoon appointed counsel for defendants in cases where they are indicted for murder and have no other means to secure counsel. Lloyd G. Hart will represent Costo Marko, held for the killing of Milan Marinich, at Cokeburg; Robert E. Burnside and Dalton T. Clark will represent Peter Dailey, Joseph Roberts and Sam Roberts indicted for the murder of Charles Moffitt, an aged blacksmith at West Borwnsville last January. Daily is in jail, Sam Roberts is out on bail and Joseph Roberts is still at large. Howard W. Hughes will represent Fred Kolbos, held for the murder of M. Cohen a merchant, at Marianna. Last week Clyde S. Pipes and Dwight M. Anderson were appointed to defend Joseph Aurio, held for the killing of Frank R agusso of Houston.

John Polacek of Charleroi, entered a plea of guilty to carrying concealed weapons. The circumstances are unusual. Polacek, according to the story of his counsel was

FIRST CONCRETE ROAD COMPLETED

Extends From Meadowlands To McClane Bridge— Three Brick Roads Built

IMPROVEMENTS UNDER WAY

The first concrete road built by the county commissioners in Washington county is practically completed. The thoroughfare has been opened to public travel and so far is giving satisfaction. The road is one mile in length and extends from Meadowlands to the McClane bridge. It is like the brick roads which are being constructed by the commissioners, 14 feet in width and an inch and a quarter higher at the crown in the center than on the outer edges. This same section of road was improved by the county commissioners about six years ago, but as is the case with all roads constructed under the Flinn plan, it proved unsatisfactory and had to be resurfaced.

In preparing the road bed the entire bottom was sacrificed and brought to a level basis after which concrete matter to a depth of seven and a quarter inches was placed in the center of the road, tapering gradually to the sides to a depth of six inches. The road is nearly level and teamsters who have occasion to travel over it frequently declare that it is ideal in every particular. The exact estimate as to the cost has not been made. However, it is announced that it will be about $3,000 per mile cheaper than the construction of a brick road.

Three brick roads have been recently completed and estimates of each will be furnished in a few days. One of the thoroughfares is known as the Midland extension, three-fourths of a mile in length and built by Reed, Liggett & Britt. Another road just completed is the Claysville-Burnsville extension, which is three-quarters of

WEST ELIZABETH LATEST TOWN TO OPEN UP BATHING BEACH

Sandy Stretch Improved and Put In Shape for Enjoyment of Aequatic Sports t his Season.

West Elizabeth is the latest Monongahela valley to have a bathing beach. Folowing the example set by Charleroi a beach has been established similar to other river beaches, and it is proving extremely popular. A beautiful sandy spot has been cleared just below Lock No. 3 and hundreds enjoy the bathing every day. There is talk of the beach being made a permanent thing by public spirited citizens and business men taking charge. Additions for next season are planned.

BOROUGH OFFICES.

The voters of the various boroughs and townships in the county should not forget that they have important local offices to fill this fall, nominations for which are to be made at the regular party primaries on the 21st. of next month.

It is unfortunate that these offices are not filled at a non-partisan election as they have to do entirely with the affairs of the local communities, says the Washington Observer. A road supervisor or school director, for example, should be elected because of his peculiar fitness for and interest in this particular kind of work. There is no party politics or should not be any, in these local matters.

In many of our townships and boroughs the voters do in fact observe a non-partisan spirit in the selection of men for these positions. Many men who have proven themselves capable and have served with efficiency are placed by the voters on all the partisan tickets, thus making it impossible for all the voters to register their approval or disapproval of their records at the primary as well as at the general election.

It is characteristic of the American people, we believe, everywhere, to give more thought and attention to their own local government. And this is the reason why there is so much waste and inefficiency in the building of our roads, in the conduct of our schools and in the management of all the financial affairs of our district.

And we wonder many times, no doubt, why it is that we are obliged to pay such high taxes and get so little for what we pay. Business men too, in towns and cities, who are careful about their own private affairs and who watch expenditures and aim to secure greater efficiency in management are entirely indifferent to the management of the government under which they live.

They will perhaps be active when matters affecting the tariff or the currency are at stake, when the larger problems which affect them are at issue, but take no interest at all in maintaining or securing honest and efficient government where they live. Until there is a greater interest among this class of our citizenship just so long will we have waste, extravagance and inefficiency in our local township, borough and city governments.

REAL PULSE OF BUSINESS

Early in June of this year it was announced with considerable Democratic triumpeting that the number of idle freight cars had decreased 25,000. The fact, more or less important, was paraded about as a fixed and positive evidence of "prosperity." At the end of that particular month, however there were in this country 275,111 idle cars which was about 70,000 more idle cars than were in this country a year ago and about 200,000 more idle cars than were in this country when the present Democratic administration came into power.

There are nearly 25,000 more idle cars in this country at this time than were in it at the end of June last, which strips to the very bone the Democratic contention that business conditions have improved beyond the very narrow limits of munition manufacturers.

Business conditions are generally judged from the number of idle cars in the country. Real prosperity keeps all the wheels of industry moving, especially the wheels of transportation.

Spotted and irregular prosperity has come with "war orders" from the foreign need of strife. Those orders are only a mirage, but they are not working in the right direction to restore public confidence and renew business activity.

Three councilmen and two school board members are to be elected this fall. Where is the interest?

Attention has been called to the letter covering the borough's recently acquired plot of ground at the corner of Fourth street and Fallowfield avenue. Weeds are growing high, but for that matter the plot has never been entirely cleared of building debris since the purchase was made. The borough is financially unable at the present time to carry out its municipal building project. Then why should not the site be cleared and improved to make it instead of an eyesore a place of beauty? The cost would be little, for the borough is fully equipped, with a splendid street department for doing the work. This is not a criticism, but a suggestion.

"Safety regulations are becoming such that with strict observance it is almost impossible to have accidents now in the mine," declared President Van Bittner of the fifth district of the United Mine Workers of America in his speech at Eldora park last Saturday. There isn't any doubt about the growing tendency for greater precautions about the mine, but with adventurous, careless human nature forever taking worse than a gambler's chance, such a thing as "strict observance" hardly exists.

In a rigid test there is always bound to be surprise when any team attains a perfect percentage, yet that is the mark that was attained by a team from the Ellsworth Collieries company in a first aid test at Eldora park Saturday afternoon. The individual members of this team are every one deserving of the warmest praise for their work. To attain perfection has meant hard work and a perfect understanding of what constitutes the necessaries in first aid and life saving.

It is the easiest thing in the world to blame the auto driver for any accident in which he is concerned, and in the name of justice it must be admitted that numerously he is rightly to be blamed. But there are exceptions and they too are quite numerous. If common sense obtained on all sides, newspapers would not be called upon to report the scores of accidents that fill their columns now.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

One night a salesman rambled into a cafe in a western town and after glancing over the bill of fare, looked around the room for an agile party to sling the hash.

"Yes, sir," said a waiter, sliding over in response to his call, with a glass of water and a napkin.

"Say waiter," remarked the salesman, glancing from the bill of fare to the food juggler, "have you got frog legs?"

"No, sir," was the rather unexpected answer of the waiter, "it is rheumatism that makes me walk that way."

The editor of a newspaper published in Central Pennsylvania tells of articles that he frequently receives from a certain citizen. They are always pertinent and worthy of publication, but they are punctuated in a most peculiar way.

Meeting his correspondent one evening at a friends house, the editor said: "That was an excellent letter I got from you this morning and I am going to print it Saturday. But tell me what rules you follow for punctuation?"

"Why," said the man, "the same rule that I learned when I was a boy. I put a semicolon every 12 words and two commas between each pair of semicolons."—Youth's Companion.

a mile in length and constructed by the same company. The third road recently finished is the Claysville-Bethany extension. T. F. Rhoades & Son, contractors. This road is one-half a mile in length. All these roads are of brick, fourteen feet in width with concrete curbing on each side.

Two other roads, the work of improving being given out last year, will be completed in a short time. One of these is the Avella-Crosscreek road, one and a half miles in length. The curbing has been completed on this contract and the work will be completed in about a month. John W. Hallam is the contractor. The other road is the Taylor Run road in Carroll township, the length being two miles, the contract being awarded to the Donora Construction company. It is said that this contract will be completed within a month and a half.

Hastings & Piper contractors on the improvement of a section of the Beallsville-Fredericktown road, have completed the grading and will begin putting in the curb next week. The road is one and a half miles in length.

The Donora Construction company having the contract for improving one and one-tenth miles of road in Centerville borough has nearly completed the grading.

Thomas Arriga of Charleroi to whom was awarded the contract for improving the Taylor Run road, No. 2, has not begun work and it is announced that no work will be done on the contract until after the abutting property owners shall all release damages.

William Pickett & Company is making rapid progress in the improvement of a section of one mile of the Hill-Church-Eighty Four road and the contracting firm of Reed, Liggett and Britt is grading on the one mile contract down Brush Run from the Washington-Bethany road, near the pumping station south of Buffalo village.

A half-mile section of road on the West Alexander-Dunsfort road leading to the entrance of the West Alexander fair grounds is being rapidly completed by William Pickett & Company. The grading is about completed and one-half or more of the curbing has been set. It is hoped to have the road completed before the fair at that place.

J. T. Hunter is constructing a concrete road leading from Midway towards Candor, one mile long. The grading is nearly completed.

You never get acquainted with a woman until you marry her.

Luke McLuke Says:

Even when friend husband admits the charges friend wife hates to admit that he is telling the truth.

A woman does not enjoy kissing as much as you think she does. What she does enjoy is the knowledge that you find her so kissable.

Married life would be bliss if a wife would try as hard to hold her temper as she tries to hold her complexion.

No woman likes to hear her husband getting a bawling out from another man. She figures that the other man is usurping her privilege.

A woman can sit down and worry over the fact that she can't find anything to worry about.

Any old time you meet a reformed gambler you are meeting an unsuccessful gambler.

A married woman usually regards a divorce as she regards almost any other article. She figures that when she needs one she can go and get it and have it charged to her husband.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to sit on a soap box in front of a store and whittle a stick all day?

The old fashioned boy who used to be yanked out to the woodshed every day and got a good lambasting because he was lazy now has a son who is sent to a sanitarium and treated for the hook worm.

The average man imagines that wastebaskets were intended to throw things at.

Anyway, the fellow who marries for money usually gets as much money as the fellow who marries for love gets love.

When a woman tells you every five minutes that she is not jealous you can bet your head against a match that she is.

Good intentions usually last as long as the remorse that gave them birth.

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS SPENT ON STOMACH

Pennsylvania Man Gets Quick Remedy for His Long Suffering Stomach.

Henry F. Curry of the Hotel Bartlett at Cambridge Springs, Pa., suffered most desperately from ailments of the stomach and digestive tract for years. He spent a fortune in the pursuit of health.

At last he happened to discover Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. He found relief quickly. Mr. Curry wrote:

"I have spent thousands of dollars for doctors and medicine and hardly got temporary relief, and before I took your medicine I was about discouraged. But after taking your medicine I got great relief. My mental and physical suffering had been so bad that I had to resort to morphine, and even with that I did not get much relief. A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section. 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amend section eight, article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenues in excess of the interest on said debt or debts, and the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, May be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund of their cancellation shall be established and maintained," so that it shall read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, exceeded seven per centum of such assessed valuation, and has not since been reduced to less than such per centum, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation. The city of Philadelphia, upon the conditions hereinafter set forth, may increase its indebtedness to the extent of three per centum in excess of seven per centum upon such assessed valuation for the specific purpose of providing for all or any of the following purposes,—to wit: For the construction and improvement of subways, tunnels, railways, elevated railways, and other transit facilities, for the construction and improvement of wharves and docks and for the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of wharves and docks, owned or to be owned by said city. Such increase, however, shall only be made with the assent of the electors thereof at a public election, to be held in such manner as shall be provided by law. In ascertaining the borrowing capacity of said city of Philadelphia, at any time, there shall be excluded from the calculation a credit, where the work resulting from any previous expenditure, for any one or more of the specific purposes hereinabove enumerated shall be yielding to said city an annual current net revenue; the amount of which credit shall be ascertained by capitalizing the annual net revenue during the year immediately preceding the time of such ascertainment. Such capitalization shall be accomplished by ascertaining the principal amount which would yield such annual, current net revenue, at the average rate of interest, and sinking-fund charges payable upon the indebtedness incurred by said city for such purposes, up to the time of such ascertainment. The method of determining such amount, so to be excluded or allowed as a credit, may be prescribed by the General Assembly.

In incurring indebtedness, for any one, or more of said purposes of construction, improvement, or reclamation, the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years from the date thereof, with provision for a sinking-fund sufficient to retire said obligation at maturity, the payments to such sinking-fund to be in equal or graded annual instalment. Such obligations may be in an amount sufficient to provide for and may include the amount of the interest and sinking-fund charges accruing and which may accrue thereon throughout the period of construction and until the expiration of one year after the completion of the work for which said indebtedness shall have been incurred; and said city shall not be required to levy a tax to pay said interest and sinking-fund charges, as required by section ten of article nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, until the expiration of said period of one year after the completion of such work.

No act shall prescribe any limitations of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to persons or property, or for other causes different from those fixed by general laws regulating actions against natural persons, and such acts now existing are avoided," so that it shall read as follows:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth (XVIII) article thereof —

Laws may be passed providing for a system of registering, transferring, insuring of and guaranteeing land titles by the State, or by the counties thereof, and for settling and determing adverse or other claims to and interest in lands the titles to which are so registered, transferred, insured, and guaranteed; and for the creation and collection of indemnity funds; and for carrying the system and powers hereby provided for into effect by such existing courts as may be designated by the Legislature, and by the establishment of such new courts as may be deemed necessary. In maters arising in and under the operation of such system, judicial powers, with right of appeal, may be conferred by the Legislature upon county recorders and upon other officers by it designated. Egret Plumes.

The story comes from India that some provinces in that country are breeding egrets in captivity, and find it possible to get four crops of plumes a year without injury to the bird. The four-crop section of the tale sounds too good to be true. The rest is plausible enough. Men have domesticated the ostrich, raised the black fox in captivity and even started breeding skunks for their skins. Why should egrets hope to be immune? The time may not be distant when paradise birds also will be reared in captivity, just as pheasants and peacocks are now. If women insist on having plumes, plumes they will get—but not by the old, fiendish method which murdered the mother bird and starved her nestlings for the sake of a handful of blood-stained feathers. That piece of barbarism is gone forever, so far as America is concerned, and it owes its departure to a section of the Underwood tariff law which even Mr. Aldrich would hardly try to repeal.

NO GERMS ON FIRING LINE

At Least Soldiers, Hourly Exposed to Death, Have One Advantage Over Civilians.

Trenches are healthier than bar racks or camps for soldiers, so far as infectious diseases are concerned. Despite the hardships, cold, exposure, irregular meals, strain of nerves, and other wholly unhygienic conditions, infectious diseases are usually at a minimum, on the firing line, so says Col. Valery Harvard of the United States medical corps. Dr. H. W. Hill of the Minnesota Public Health association explains this seeming paradox.

In the barracks and camps the soldiers have wide intercourse with each other, and with civilians, thus picking up whatever infectious diseases are going about. Despite regular life, good meals, discipline and sanitation, the infectious diseases attack them. But in the trenches they are comparatively isolated, and since infected soldiers are not allowed there, those on the firing line have little chance to become infected at all. Such injuries as cold, starvation, strain can produce are, of course, suffered, but infectious diseases are not included in this list. Parallel cases in civil life are not uncommon, and everyone knows of families who live like pigs, yet are never sick, while other families living under apparently the best conditions are more or less constantly infected with one epidemic disease after another. Careful investigation always shows that the former escape, because they do not happen to be exposed to infection.

MUST GUARD AGAINST STRAIN

Too Much Care of Health Cannot Be Taken by the Student Who Has to Work.

After making a study of the 48 students comprising the graduating class of the Bennett Medical college, Chicago, many of whom were working their way through, Dr. William F. Waugh, emeritus dean of the college, writes to the Medical Record that "the showing is not a good one for the workers, more than half complaining of the strain."

Doctor Waugh goes on to say: "The man who attempts to earn his living while attending the modern medical school should lay down his campaign as carefully as the modern general does and calculate his own powers, the means of keeping his body in the best condition and the extent of his own working capacities without undue strain. In a word, he must be a qualified sanitarian and successfully apply the laws of sanitary science to his own case."

MAN HIT BY AUTO NOW ON WAY TO RECOVERY

Tony Ponts Getting Along Well at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital—Rode Bicycle Out Eighth Street in Front of Arrigo's Car.

Tony Ponts, the Italian bicyclist who was struck and run over by an automobile driven by Thomas Arrigo Saturday, is getting along well at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, and will be ready to leave the hospital in about a week.

Ponts suffered a dislocation of hip and body bruises. Prompt attention was given him. The accident happened at the corner of McKean avenue and Eighth street. Arrigo was driving down McKean tooting his horn, when the bicyclist dashed out Eighth directly in front of the machine. Pedestrians had gotten out of the way but Ponts, it is declared was on the wrong side of the street, and rode directly in front of the machine.

"SCANDAL" TITLE OF GREAT DRAMA AT COYLE

"Scandal," coming to the Coyle Friday is visualized and personified in the picture as a horrible grotesque figure standing in a pool of murky mud, which filth it is ever slinging about, besmirching the passersby. The story depicts the same conception of the poison monger embodied by Shakespeare in his immortal character of Iago in Othello. The story does not soar above the simple mind. Its pictures are the pictures of the people. It deals with an evil imminent—accive in servant's hall, in the drawing room, in the novels of the poor. Of real people not of puppets, does Miss Weber write. Even to attain theatric ends, she will not sacrifice reality. The potency of its message is an uplift. It is an eleventh commandment: "Mind your your own business," that businesslike precept which philosophers have preached through the ages from the misty dawn of history.

DELINQUENT COLLECTORS MAKING RETURNS TODAY

The delinquent tax collectors are today making their returns of 1912, 1913 and 1914 taxes, this being the last day in which to make such returns. Under the new ruling the delinquent collectors are required to make these returns each year. Heretofore the return has been made only every three years. That is, under the old ruling, were it still effective, only 1912 taxes would be returned this year. The 1915 returns will be required to be returned next February. It is said that delinquent collectors have been depositing these taxes and receiving the benefit of the proceeds until time to make their returns.

Lime Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) medication in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption):

"Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation, Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve, undergo an exudation or partial consolidation in the lung, which then resolving would appear to contribute to the walling off and closing of the lesions. Hand in hand with this course of events, the sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which usually disappear, and the patients are discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

Ethical medical journals seldom speak so positively about a remedial agent, yet this testimony coincides with that from many consumptives who have secured like results through the use of Eckman's Alterative.

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy for pulmonary tuberculosis and allied throat and bronchial affections, its healing power may in some measure be attributed to the manner in which this element is so combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person and it does not irritate the stomach.

Eckman's Alterative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so it is safe to try. If your druggist is out of it, ask him to [illegible]
